

Removing a Serious Obstruction Gently.

Dynamite and giant powder might answer admirably to remove obstructions from the bowels in the case of a child, but explosive measures in medication are ever attended with disastrous consequences. For instance, the bowels cannot be violently drenched with safety, nor is there the slightest necessity for so doing. On the contrary, it is most unwise. None but the purblind adherents of antiquated notions in medicine advise or sanction such a course. To weaken the intestines—the effect of drastic purgation—is to compromise the health of the entire system. With Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, on the other hand, the bowels are relaxed, not by a convulsion of nature, but by a gentle action of the medicine, the liver and stomach, as well as the bowels, are toned and benefited by it.

To millions, pleasing their palates, and cleansing their systems, arousing their livers, kidneys, stomachs and bowels to a healthy activity. Such is the mission of the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. Fifty-cent and $1 bottles for sale by Wm. Pininger, Reno, Nevada.

A Scheme With a Pink Eye.

Denver Field and Farm. Sister Mercer, the old man who has something to do with a range paper published at Cheyenne, has a new scheme in his head which he calculates will bring him greater fame and fortune than Colonel Sellers ever realized out of his turnip patch. Mercer has always had an open-hearted sympathy for his range constituency, but his latest endeavors in their behalf fairly paralyze all former efforts at philanthropy. He went down to Chicago and after hobnobbing with Phil Armour, claims to have put on foot a plan to organize a pool, composed of the great Chicago packer on the one side and a whole lot of western range men on the other. The rangemen will flock together and send their little shipments down to the honorable Mr. Armour, who will slaughter the hogs at the moderate price of $2.50 a head, which will include the yardage, commissions and marketing, as we understand it.

This arrangement looks to us very much like the allegorical affair between the spider and the fly—Mr. Armour, of course, representing the spider. Any butcher in the country knows that a critter can be killed with a profit at a much less figure than $2.50. A Denver butcher says he can make money slaughtering hogs all day long at 50 cents a head. He, of course, retains the offal and refuse for his own use, the same as Mr. Armour would do. In doing so he smuggles in a second profit. Then he has a bulge on the buyers and can sell the rangemen's beef just as he sees fit. They know nothing about the market quotations and have no way of finding out, if Mr. Armour prefers to keep the matter dark. In this way he has the rangemen more completely under his great big thumb than they have ever been before, and that is just where he wants them.

Mr. Mercer seems to be playing the part of the good Samaritan entirely of his own volition—unsought and unasked. He would be the Moses that leads the bewildered hosts into the wilderness, without even the assurance of fetching them out again. What is he going to do with the American Cattle Trust in the meantime? Does he propose to buck against the infant of his own making? It looks that way. If the Cattle Trust is having a good thing, why couldn't a second pool be gotten up that will prove just as large a bonanza—for those on the inside? There is a good deal of clap-trap in the board pile which Mr. Mercer is cracking down at Chicago, and we don't imagine that the range men will take much stock in it.

Alfalfa as a Honey Producer. Prairie Farmer. It is strongly asserted that "alfalfa is to be the greatest honey-producing plant in the world." Its blossoms are abundant, their season very long, and the honey from them proves of excellent quality. A prominent California apiarian says alfalfa honey is surpassed by none, either in flavor or color, even that slipped from the white clover of New England. There are two three or four successive crops of flowers, according to locality. At Phoenix, Arizona, we find them cutting four crops in a season, as there are no winters; in Southern California three, and often four cuttings; in Colorado, usually three crops. Much honey is made from the blossoms, but our impression is that it is a little thin and watery when much irrigation is done. As to the quality, we doubt its being equal to that from white clover. We shall be glad to hear from those experienced on these points.

Reliable advices from Montana state that the ranges are in splendid shape this year.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1887
SIX-PAGE EDITION.

THE Nevada miner has distinctive characteristics. His intelligence is without a parallel to be found in any similar class of workmen. It is such intelligence as furnishes Bladels and Adams' and Stevensons for Governor; Daggett and Woodburns for Congress; Sharons, Jones', Fairs and Stewarts for the Senate, and hundreds of others who read the best books from well stocked libraries and discuss with logic and eloquence difficult questions on the floor of their halls and elsewhere. The Nevada miner is self-sacrificing. Kissing good-bye his wife and children he descends to the lower levels of danger to earn for them money with which to buy food and clothing and to supply the children with the opportunities for an education. Charity, too, which suffereth long and is kind, has possession of his nature; as oft repeated on the Comstock, the hand of the miner has given on one occasion alone, such as a fair, thousands of dollars to the Catholic, Episcopal and other Churches; never forgets on pay day the widow and orphan in misfortune, in some instances the monthly contributions amounting, as in the late Gould and Curry disaster, to many thousands of dollars. The miner, too, is heroic. Neither before the walls of Troy, nor in the pass of Thermopylae, nor at the siege of Fort Donelson, was ever exhibited greater bravery than that exhibited at the Yellow Jacket fire, or later at the rescue of the imprisoned miners in the fatal drifts of the Alta, or still later during the days and nights of anxious toil to save alive from starvation or noxious gases the imperiled miners in the drifts of the Gould and Curry. It was the tolling hand of the Nevada miner that made possible this a Territory in '61, a State in '64; that has added hundreds of millions to the volume of gold and silver in our commercial world; that has made possible the State's prosperity at home and given it a reputation abroad.

NEVADA is said to be a mining State. There are more of its residents engaged in mining than in any other occupation. One of the States' chief products, if not the chief product, is silver, or gold and silver ore. To-day there have been in attendance from the leading mining camp of the world representative miners. In vain they look for what chiefly interests them. There is not at the Pavilion, at the grounds, anywhere, a piece of ore as big as a man's hand. We have in this "Silver State" silver, gold, copper, iron, zinc, salt, borax, lead, and other metals, but none are exhibited at this Fair. There is a State exhibit in the Capitol at Carson but not here; thousands of specimens on the Comstock, at Aurora, Hawthorne, Eureka, Cherry Creek, Hamilton, Austin and other places but not one specimen to show Fair visitors here in attendance from this and other States. An exhibit of products in mineral Nevada without a mineral exhibit is like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out. A mineral exhibit would not detract from the stock, horticultural or agricultural exhibits or the races; it would simply swell the exhibits and enhance the general merits of the State Fair. We refer to this neglect to make a mineral exhibit at this Fair not to find fault with the management or anyone in particular, but because the neglect evokes general comment and occasions general disappointment; and because a suggestion made at this time may have some weight in having at future State Fairs an evident error remedied.

THE GAZETTE devotes two of the literary columns of its mammoth issue to-day to Reno's business. It is the wish of the management to give in this article free and complimentary notices to all who are struggling to do an honorable business in this vicinity. It is our wish to show alike our good will towards all whether they be patrons of the paper or not.

THE only real difference between the Republican party platform of 1884 and that of the American party platform of 1887 is the claim that the naturalization laws should be so changed that an immigrant before becoming a citizen should live in this country 14 years instead of but five as now.

[PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.]

Yacht Race in New York Waters.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The official time of the Thistle crossing the line was 12:35 and the Volunteer 12:36. The Thistle at once tacked to the starboard, heading for the Long Island shore. The result was she lost her wind entirely, while the Yankee held a light air. When the Thistle and Volunteer reached the vicinity of the starting line there were over 200 yachts and steamboats about them. Thousands of people straightened for a glimpse of the racers, but even Fort Wadsworth, where a great many ladies gathered, the yachts could only be seen dimly through the heavy mist. At noon there was a breeze of about eight miles an hour, coming in puffs from the South. The mist was clearing slowly and the racers began maneuvering for a start. The official signal given for them to get ready was fired at 1:22.

Ten minutes later the Thistle crossed the line, closely followed by Volunteer. Both yachts were closely headed on the port tack, each carrying main and club topsail, small jib topsail and jib and stay sails. The Thistle lead was small, but she seemed to move the most rapidly in the zephyr. The little wind blowing was quite variable, veering to the west. LATER.—The little God of the Wind seemed disinclined to favor the rival yachts this morning with any but light breezes, and the public disappointment has been in what was to be the first of three races between the Scotch yacht Thistle and the American yacht Volunteer for the possession of the American cup. The last finishing touches had been put upon the yachts, and everything superfluous removed from both the racers, even to the private dunnage of the crew. The conditions were extremely favorable to the Scotch cutter. She has always done her best work in light winds, and there appears a small chance of there being anything more than a light wind to-day.

New York Democratic Convention.

SARATOGA, Sept. 27.—The Democracy have possession of the town. Summer visitors have all flown, and the event of the day for everybody was the opening of the session of the Democratic State Convention, which began at noon. The famous watering place presented a striking contrast to two weeks ago, when the Labor Convention was held. Then the crowd seemed to be more or less poverty stricken, and it was openly asserted that the one day convention was due to that fact. To-day, however, the opposite was the truth. The silk hat, the cigar and the watch were everywhere, and an evidence of money and a willingness to spend it were apparent on all hands. Two weeks ago not a single band of music was in the town, except small orchestras at hotels. To-day there are dozens, and the streets are gay with splendid marching organizations.

LATER.—George Raikes, of Rochester, was unanimously nominated temporary chairman of the convention. His allusions to Hill and Cleveland were greeted with applause. Resolutions were offered as follows: Resolved, That the laws of assessments and taxation should be re-adjusted and reformed so all property shall be fairly taxed. The support of the Government and relieve farming and kindred pursuits for disproportionate burdens imposed under the present laws, and that national legislation should be so modified and amended that agriculture shall no longer be embarrassed or impeded by unwise discrimination. The convention then took a recess until evening.

Drifted Out to Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—Eight small boys, all between 8 and 12 years of age, boarded a small and leaky scow at Cousin's dry dock last evening and soon drifted far out in the stream. A strong ebb tide carried the boat seaward, and it was lost to sight before an alarm was given. Parties started out and searched the bay most of the night, but no trace of the boys was found until this morning, when they were found by an Italian fisherman just outside of the heads, and were brought back to the city. All were cold, wet and hungry from the night's exposure, but were not suffering otherwise.

Texas Cattle Fever in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 27.—A fresh outbreak of Texas fever has appeared at Tekamah. Dr. Billings, of the Texas Veterinary Department, says that native cattle are undoubtedly extending the disease to the natives. It has been held therefore that only Texas cattle could communicate the fever to others.

Prevented by a Steady Rain.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27.—Owing to the rain this morning, the Grand Army review was postponed until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

The First National Bank.

This Bank will close daily at 12 o'clock noon and open from 6:30 to 7:30 P. M. during the season of the Nevada State Agricultural Society, commencing Wednesday, September 21st and ending Saturday, October 1st (Saturdays included). By order of the Vice President.
C. T. BENDER, Cashier.
Reno, Sept. 20, 1887.

STATE NEWS.

Humboldt County.

[Silver State, Sept. 24.]

The impression seems to prevail in Paradise Valley that the Humboldt District Agricultural Society will not pay in premiums the $1,000 which the State allows the society. It is difficult to conceive how such an impression got out or how any intelligent man can entertain such an idea. The society will not only pay the amount which the State allows, but it offers nearly $4,000 besides in purses and premiums.

The trial of Wm. Brissell, charged with drawing a deadly weapon and brandishing the same in a threatening manner, came off Saturday before Justice Job. The defendant, who pleaded his own case, was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of $200 or serve 100 days in the county jail.

Heavy showers almost like cloudbursts, fell in the Harmony range last Friday evening, and Superintendent Gramm, of the Water Works, had more water than he knew what to do with for awhile, and his longitudinal viasage has assumed a broad smile.

L. Goddard ships to-day a train-load of fat cattle and sheep to his firm, M. Brandenstein & Co., San Francisco.

The Board of Directors advertise for proposals for privileges at the Fair grounds.

The fair season is now on, the pretty girls, fine horses and big pumpkins will be on exhibition at different places until the cold weather sets in.

THE STATE FAIR.

SIXTH DAYS DOINGS.

A Large Attendance at the Fair Grounds—The Stock Parade and Indian Pony Race—The Bazaar Ascension a Failure—Notes.

The Fair Grounds.

The sun rose highly over Reno on the sixth day of the Fair, and early in the morning long streams of vehicles could be seen winding their way to the race track. At this writing there are no less than 300 carriages, barouches, buggies, etc., on the grounds. The grand stand is packed with ladies and children. There are fully 1,000 people in the seats. The Virginia train brought down about 200 people, while last night's overland and this morning's trains were loaded with humanity eager to witness the races.

The stock exhibition to-day was declared by everyone present to be the best ever seen in the State. Senator Stanford's Holsteins attracted universal attention and the most favorable comment.

The ladies' tournament was the most pleasing feature on the day's programme, their riding occasioning much applause.

The Indian pony race was a source of much amusement to the assembled multitude. There were about 20 entries for the $50 purse, and the antics of the fiery mustangs elicited much merriment.

Professor Monroe made another signal failure. The balloon was inflated with hot air, and ascended about 50 feet, when, for some unaccountable reason, the aeronaut "let her down" amidst a murmur of disapprobation from the crowd.

The next event was a free-for-all trot, best three-in-five. The entries were Victor, Wallace G. and Col. Hawkins.

The first heat was exciting. Col. Hawkins came in first, but he was given to Wallace G. on account of Hawkins running time, 2:32. The second heat was a dead heat between Victor and Hawkins; time, 2:31 1/2.

Fair Notes.

T. G. Herman, of Wadsworth, yesterday purchased of Jess Harris, of Fort Collins, Colorado, the magnificent Cleveland bay stallion, "Blossoming Heather," three years old, and considered to be one of the finest animals of that age and breed ever imported from England. The price paid was $2,300.

Notwithstanding that the Directors have offered $5 a head for coyotes for the contemplated coyote hunt, in which Vail Bros. doghounds were to have taken a prominent part, but one small specimen has been secured, and under the circumstances it has been deemed advisable not to have the hunt take place. No coyotes, no hunt.

What a pity Hon. William Henderson does not have in the Pavilion that wonderful mineral exhibit which he brought to Reno from the New Orleans Exposition, and which did so much there to advertise to the world Nevada's mineral resources.

Several additions were made last evening to the morning to the exhibits in the Pavilion, the most noticeable of which are potatoes, cabbages and cauliflowers. A lady resident of Franktown makes a beautiful floral display.

A SACRAMENTO INTERVIEW.

Occurring a Few Days ago at the Capital of California.

Prominent Printer—What's the matter with your business men up in Nevada? We get thousands of dollars worth of jobwork from there every year.

GAZETTE Reporter—That's easy to understand; you solicit it and take work less than your usual rates, thinking all the profit you get from Nevada is so much money found.

Printer—We do nothing of the kind; we don't want any of the printing that naturally should go to the GAZETTE office.

Rep.—Well, one thing is certain; there isn't a man doing business in Reno mean enough to send his job work out of the State.

Printer—Well, that's where you are off, we get lots of it. Why, we have just printed a job for a man who had on his bill heads "Opposite GAZETTE office, Virginia street, Reno, Nevada."

The Pyramid Reservation Survey.

Surveyor Powers, of California, has completed the U. S. survey of the boundaries of Pyramid Indian reservation. He did the work in accordance with the notes of Monroe's survey of 1885. The GAZETTE learns that the new survey includes Wadsworth, about half of Whitehead's ranch, and the entire of Symond's and Mullen's ranches. It also takes in the old land-mark, Round Hole spring.

Portraits! Portraits!

The people of Reno and vicinity are now offered a good opportunity to have an excellent portrait made in any style or size and at very moderate prices. Attention is called to my display of pictures at Pavilion. Studio over Sanderland's shoe store, Virginia street, Reno. J. B. MONACO, Artist, sept. 21st.

Rubber Goods.

Farmers visiting the Fair should take time by the forelock and lay in a stock of rubber goods. Abrahams Bros. have a fine lot of rubber coats, boots, hats, etc. Don't wait till winter comes, but provide yourselves now.

Ho, for Steamboat Springs.

The water at Steamboat Springs is better this season than it has been for many years. It comes to the surface boiling hot. Visitors to the Fair cannot spend a day more pleasantly than by taking a ride to Steamboat and enjoying a bath. The swimming bath is in fine condition. The hotel accommodations are unsurpassed. Visitors can leave Reno on the regular morning train at 7 o'clock and return at 11 o'clock the same day or at half-past 7 in the evening. Steamboat is one of the most popular resorts in the State, and the prices are moderate.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Business Transacted at Their Meeting Yesterday.

At the meeting of the Board of Equalization yesterday the following business was transacted:

The valuation on the property of John O'Brien was ordered increased from $1,730 to $2,210.

J. M. Fulton, on behalf of the Nevada and California Railroad Company, asked a reduction in the assessed valuation of the property assessed to said company. It was ordered that a reduction of $2,835 be made on the rolling stock and $500 per mile on the road-bed.

The application of Isaac Barnett for a reduction in the assessed value of his property was denied.

S. C. Fogus asked a reduction in the assessed valuation of the Nevada State mills. A reduction of $500 was granted.

The Truckee Lumber Company was cited to appear and show cause why the valuation of its flume should not be raised from $1,200 to $2,500. Failing to appear the property stands assessed as raised.

J. J. Walker appeared in answer to a citation and protested against the proposed raise in the assessed valuation of his lands. A raise of $600 was ordered.

The assessed valuation of the real estate of M. Donahue was raised from $300 to $600.

The valuation placed on the house and lot on the corner of First and Sierra streets belonging to Heister Stevens was ordered raised from $800 to $1,000.

A. D. Cave was cited to appear on Monday, October 3d, at 10 o'clock, and show cause why the valuation of his property should not be increased from $350 to $1,000.

The following persons failing to appear in answer to citations, their property stands assessed as per citations: W. H. Blanchard, from $1,700 to $2,000; H. Murdoch, from $1,945 to $3,700; B. Lachman, from $900 to $1,000; Osburn & Lemmon, from $3,000 to $3,500; George Alt, from $3,700 to 4,000.

Adjourned until Monday, September 26th, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Carson people have done a polite thing to suspend business on to-morrow to attend the Fair, and Reno should not be slow to appreciate.

The pretty pony driven in a dog cart by the children of George Russell, the capitalist and cattleman, attracts considerable attention at the Fair grounds and in town.

The business men of Reno will close their stores to-morrow from 10 A. M. to 6 P. M. in order to participate in the State Fair enjoyments and allow their employees to do the same.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE and STOCKMAN has an issue of 3,000 copies, as the first issue of the new connected with this office would take each before any Notary in the State of Nevada.

James Morris, late first assistant job printer in the mammoth job office of H. S. Crocker & Co., of Sacramento, and one of the best at his trade on the Pacific Coast, is now foreman of the GAZETTE job office.

The following is from C. W. Carey, an old Washoeite, now located at the fair grounds: "Your Fair daily GAZETTE is the best paper I ever saw printed in Washoe county. I wish you great success; don't fail to send it."

Lyon County Times: The new head recently put on the GAZETTE and STOCKMAN improves its appearance greatly. The paper is chock full of news for everybody; in fact it is the best weekly in the State, and deserves the liberal patronage of not only the stockmen, but farmers, miners and business men.

Young Jim Fair Robbed.

Young Jim Fair, after winning several hundred dollars at faro in Sacramento Sunday night, turned from the table with $100 in five-dollar pieces in his hand. He was jostled and the coin fell to the floor. Instantly a dozen rascals and cheek guerrillas sprang for the money, and there was a great scramble, young Jim failing to recover one dollar of the money.

A Feast for the Gamblers.

Those who delight in gambling sports can be accommodated in Reno. The GAZETTE learned this morning that no less than thirty-one games are in full blast. They comprise seven stud poker, two wheel games, one rouge-et-noir, one loli ban, six faro, four rounds, two antan, four chuck-a-luck, one Arabian pool, two forty-ball games and one red-and-black game.

Merit Will Tell.

Was never better demonstrated than when "Fryer's Abietene Remedies" were awarded diplomas at the late California State Fair at Sacramento and at the Mechanics Institute at San Francisco. W. Pinner is agent for these celebrated "Abietene Remedies" and he offers to return your money if they do not give satisfaction. In buying, be sure the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer is on each, as none are genuine without it.

AFTER DARK.

A Splendid Performance by a Fine Company.

The Webster-Brady Dramatic Company opened at the Nevada Theater last evening to a well filled house and to say that they made a hit is only to mildly express the term. From the rise to the fall of the curtain everything went like clock-work, and even the massive London Bridge set and the intricate railway tunnel scene worked like a charm. The fame of this company had preceded it here, but their auditors last night, little expected such a splendidly equipped and completely organized band of players. Superior stage management was apparent everywhere. The artists all dressed and made up as if they were playing on a metropolitan stage, and when the curtain fell on the last picture a more satisfied audience never left the walls of our theater.

"After Dark," the play rendered in from the pen of the greatest living dramatist, Dion Boucicault, and can be justly entitled a splendid production. It combines fine pathos, good sterling clean comedy and sensational situations without exciting the ridicule of the refined auditor as most of the modern melo-dramas are apt to do.

Of the company, Mr. Wm. A. Brady desires the pain for his wonderfully accurate and strong performance of the leading part, Old Tom. The character he portrayed is that of a man sunk to the lowest level of humanity, but still retaining the language and bearing of a refined gentleman, which he formerly was. His make up, showing the marks of constant dissipation and rough life, was a study. This young actor has been here several times before, and surprised everybody who knows him by the advancement he has made in his chosen art. Mr. Geo. P. Webster, as George McDursh, showed up finely, although his part did not admit of much display of power. He has a splendid stage presence, and a fine voice and captures his audience from the first by his personification of a miser. In his strong scenes he was at his best, and deserved all the applause and the curtain call that he received.

Miss Charlotte Tittel is the best actress here. She had her part long time, and her rendition of Eliza was marked with a certain womanly feeling and modesty that won for her at once the sympathy of the audience.

Miss Emma Biggs, as the beautiful Rose Edgerton, and played the part superbly, and her introduced songs were received by the audience with great enthusiasm. Little Minnie Tittel is a great child actress, and her specialities went immensely. George Stevens, as the comedy Jew, Dicky Morris, J. W. McConnell as Claudius Bellingham, H. H. West as Gordon Chumley, and Miss Marshall as Crumpets, also deserve special mention.

To-night Hazel Kirke, the play that nearly everybody has read and heard about, will be produced in its original form. M. Webster has a grand opportunity for a display of his emotional powers as Dunstan Kirke. Mr. Brady appears as Ptiticus Green, a part he has successfully played over and over. Miss Tittel is one of the original Hazels, and Miss Biggs is the best Dolly Dutton in America. She introduces two beautiful ballads in the first act. The rest of the company have congenial roles.

A STRUGGLE FOR LIFE.

The Story of Many Sufferers—Facts Which are Confirmed by Many of Our Best Citizens.—The Value of Prompt Action.

"I shall move immediately upon your works" was the strong language of General Grant, at one of the great crises of his military career.

Such should be the declaration of every man and woman who feels himself or herself assailed by some lurking foe to health and especially strong should be the resolution to act if the enemy has already intrenched itself in some vital part of the system, consumption, asthma, neuralgia, rheumatism, paralysis, and other kindred ailments become dangerous only when neglected.

We are led to these reflections, by the wonderful cures performed by that great healer, Dr. McLenan. The following testimonial has been handed us for publication. We are personally acquainted with some of the parties and know they would not lend their names to a work of deception or fraud.

Some of the cases have already been cured, while others are on the high road to health.

Mrs. A. H. Barnes of the Golden Eagle Hotel, Mrs. Mary J. Anderson, Mrs. S. A. Linton, Mr. Benson, proprietor of the Europa stables; Mrs. M. A. Vesey, Mrs. Benson, Sierra street, near Golden Eagle Hotel; Albert B. Hill, Palace Hotel; and others who speak in the highest praise of Dr. McLenan's wonderful gift, who may now be consulted personally at his office on Sierra street, opposite Golden Eagle Hotel. Parties wishing to consult for their ailments do so at once, as his stay here will be limited. Consultation free.

Credit to Whom Credit is Due.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 20, 1887.

This is to certify that Mr. Hussey called on me at my ranch, six miles south of Sacramento, one year ago last March and wanted to sell me his prize-winning black-leg in cattle. I told him I had been in the cattle business for 15 years and had never lost one from black-leg and would not buy any medicine until my cattle got sick.

Thereupon W. Johnson, agent for Mr. Hussey, called on me at my ranch July 10th last and wanted me to buy the preventive then. But I replied to him as I did to Mr. Hussey, that I had no use for it. But to my surprise in about two weeks I lost out among my young cattle and found six dead and two more sick with the disease. I immediately went to Sacramento to see Mr. Hussey or Johnson, but both were away from the city. I was told by a friend to go and see Mrs. Hussey, which I did. I induced her to go out and show us how to use the treatment, which she did. Two died the morning after we started, and I was told to look out for the rest. I looked about and found I had lost a dozen in all. I had my cattle gathered at once and inoculated them all under two years of age, since which time have lost none. My cattle are in good health now and doing splendidly. I am clearly of the opinion that the treatment saved my cattle.

When I have seen in the paper in your issue of the 15th inst. a letter in which you intimated that Mr. Hussey and I were in a dispute of facts. Yours, respectfully, HERMAN HUBER.

It is infallible; I have the proofs.

I guarantee my work. I treat cattle in herds that are dying, and warrant them for fifty cents a head never to die from the disease.

I have been treating cattle in California for nearly three years successfully, and have sold the Remedy to most of the principal stockmen in the State.

I am prepared to furnish satisfactory proofs of the efficacy of my invention.
